First, you need to subtract 10 from the Capacity Score after we need to Divide the Total Value by 2 8 How can you roll capacity scores? Iam will give the answer with the classic method to prove the ability scores, so you have to use the 4d6 dice to throw and fall the lowest. For example, you drive 5.5.4 and 2 you can drop the 2 and then more the rest together by giving you the 14. So you have to repeat this up to 6 times and from the 6 capacity scores you need to organize the numbers as you wish. 9 What is the skill bonus? In fact, the skill bonus can be activated whenever the player has chosen this area at the beginning of the 1st level, and then the player will get the skill with heavy armor. The main work with this skill is the following and the player can save in the 5th excel character sheet such as: Attack Attack With the spells you cast, with the weapons with what you master, the ability checks with the skills and tools in which you master. 10 Can we add skill bonuses to the armor? No! We cannot add the skill bonus to the armor class. Why because to be a skilled in armor will allow you to cast spells in it and to be unskilled, you have some drawbacks on one of your attack rollers, the ability to otherwise check save involving dexterity or strength. 11 Can we add a skill bonus to the skills? You can't add the skill bonus to any of your skills when you're not proficient in it, even when you need to make the charisma economy throw into it.
